

Just the one price.

It's the one price idea that's in vogue at our store—we do not believe in constant fluctuations—it isn't fair to the public. Of course you feel that your money is just as good as the other man's money—you feel that it ought to have just as good a purchasing power—it ought to bring you all there is in it. One price and that the lowest, is our policy.

Easter Sunday was appropriately observed, yesterday, at the different churches in the city. The music rendered by the choirs being particularly fine.

The rain yesterday afternoon came up at just the right time to catch the crowd out to hear the band. There was a rush for the portico in the front of the old palace and a few moments afterward the carriage drivers were doing a rainy day business.

Several prominent citizens have called on the NEW MEXICAN to say that the county commissioners should stand upon the law and for the best interests of the community and of the honest taxpayers, and should not aid the tax dodger and delinquent taxpayer who seeks exemption and rebates at the expense of the county, of the territory and of the honest taxpayer.

News was received here on Saturday evening that A. J. Tisdall, manager of the Bell Ranch company, 65 miles south-east of Las Vegas, died there Friday at 11 o'clock of pneumonia after an illness of about a week. He was widely known and popular throughout northern New Mexico. He leaves a young widow, having been married but about a year.

It is expected that the board of county commissioners will meet tomorrow, E. A. Fiske, for himself and several other delinquent taxpayers, wants to submit a proposition for a settlement.

DISTINGUISHED RAILROAD OFFICIALS.

General Superintendent Van Winkle, of the Big Four, and General Freight Traffic Manager Biddle, of the Santa Fe, here on a visit yesterday.

Mr. J. Q. Van Winkle, general superintendent of the Big Four, the C. & C. & St. Louis railroad, with headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., and family, consisting of wife, one daughter and two sons, arrived Saturday evening in his private car and the party spent yesterday here. Mr. Van Winkle is an old and warm friend of General Agent T. J. Helm of the Denver & Rio Grande, both having commenced railroading together and both were on the same road a little over 25 years ago. Mr. Van Winkle has been connected with his road for about 30 years and has worked himself steadily upwards, commencing as a train newsboy and going through the mechanical, operative and administrative departments of the road, step by step, until he attained the very important position he now holds and which he administers with signal ability and success. This was their first visit to any section of this great country west of the Missouri river. They are en route to California now and enjoyed their stay here very much in every respect.

Mr. W. B. Biddle, the bright, energetic and successful general freight traffic manager of the great Santa Fe system was also a visitor to Santa Fe on yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Biddle and her guests, Mrs. J. E. Beale and Miss E. Helm of Chicago. The party traveled in Santa Fe railway special car No. 218 and arrived Saturday night, en route to California. Mr. and Mrs. Biddle are well and favorably known to New Mexicans, counting many of the latter as their warm friends. Mr. Biddle having been for years connected with the Atlantic & Pacific at Albuquerque. Although young in years, Mr. Biddle is considered one of the best freight men among all the many freight traffic managers and general freight agents in this country. The party drove about the city in company with Mr. Van Winkle and family and all declared that they were greatly gratified at their visit, having found it very interesting and profitable. Mr. Helm and Colonel Frost showed them about and made things as pleasant as it was possible to do.

Go to Fischer & Co.'s for pure drugs, chemicals, toilet articles and fresh candy.

The Weather.

The weather yesterday was cloudy with high winds during forenoon, culminating in light rain during the afternoon accompanied by thunder. The total amount of precipitation up to noon today was three-quarters of an inch. The maximum temperature yesterday was 60 and the minimum 40 degrees. The mean relative humidity was 60 per cent. Partly cloudy weather and scattered showers are indicated for tonight and Tuesday, warmer Tuesday.

THE IRRIGATION COMMISSION.

Committee Appointed to Investigate Irrigation Matters in New Mexico.

The territorial commission on irrigation and water rights had a session at Albuquerque on Saturday last. The following were present: Antonio Joseph, Ojo Caliente, president; J. E. Saint, Albuquerque, secretary; W. A. Hawkins, Silver City; Frank Springer, Las Vegas; George Curry, Roswell.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Hawkins, Springer and Saint was appointed to draft ways and means of conducting a thorough and systematic examination into the present irrigation system of the territory as well as for its future possibilities.

This committee submitted a report recommending that to each member of the commission be apportioned a certain number of the counties of the territory in which to carry on the investigation, the results of which they are to forward to the secretary. They are to inquire into the number of irrigation streams and ditches in the respective counties together with the method of irrigation in vogue there, the number of acres now under irrigation and the additional number that could be cultivated with new irrigation enterprises; the amount of water in the different streams, the amount used and the amount wasted; the desirability of changes in the irrigation laws of the territory as well as considerable other data. This was adopted and the commission adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

THE PROBLEM SOLVED.

THE NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY

TENTED.

Results of the Tests in Various Forms of Dyspepsia.

Chronic indigestion or dyspepsia, while a very common trouble, has for some time been looked upon by able physicians as a serious thing, and that no time should be lost in treating it properly at the start, because recent researches have shown that the most serious, fatal and incurable diseases have their origin in simple dyspepsia or indigestion.

Dyspepsia is simply one form of indigestion, the sugar and starch food not being assimilated by the digestive organs. In Bright's disease the albumen is not properly assimilated.

While consumption and dyspepsia are twin diseases, and it is beyond question that dyspepsia makes a fertile soil for the seeds of consumption.

But the trouble has been to find a remedy that could be depended upon to cure dyspepsia, as it is notoriously obstinate and difficult to cure.

This has been the question which has puzzled physicians and laymen alike, until the question was solved three years ago by the appearance of a new dyspepsia cure in the medical world known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which it was claimed was as a certain, reliable cure for every form of stomach trouble.

Physicians would, however, not accept such statements without first giving the new remedy many tests and carefully observing results.

For three years the remedy has been thoroughly tested in every section of the country and with surprising and satisfactory results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be honestly claimed to be a specific, a radical lasting cure for indigestion in the various forms of acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, gas or wind on stomach, too much bile, undue fullness or pressure after eating and similar symptoms resulting from disordered digestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were not placed before the public until this three years' trial left no doubt as to their value and they have recently been placed in the trade and can be found on sale at all druggists at the nominal price of 50 cents per package.

No extravagant claims are made for the remedy. It will not cure rheumatism, pneumonia, typhoid fever nor anything but just what it is claimed to cure and that is every form of stomach trouble.

No dieting is necessary, good wholesome food and plenty of it and you may rest assured that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest it.

Druggists claim for it that it is a pleasant remedy to recommend to dyspepsics, because it gives such universal satisfaction.

THE FOUNTAIN CASE

Examination of Carr and McNew, Held for the Murder of Colonel Fountain, Begun.

LEE & GILLILAND AT LARGE

Three Witnesses for Prosecution Examined Saturday, Two Today—Posses Sent Out Returned Without Lee and Gilliland—New Warrants Issued.

Special Dispatch to the New Mexican.

Las Cruces, N. M., April 11.—The preliminary examination of William McNew and William Carr, charged with the murder of Albert J. Fountain and son, began Saturday morning last, before Judge Parker at Las Cruces.

The attorney for the defense stated, that it was reported, that a considerable number of persons present were armed, and asked that only such deputies as were named by the sheriff be allowed to carry arms. Judge Parker indignantly stated that any person caught carrying weapons would be severely dealt with and ordered that all persons except the sheriff and three of his deputies should immediately vacate the room if they were armed—none moved.

The prosecution had sworn about 12 witnesses and the defense nearly an equal number. The first witness for the prosecution was Jack Maxwell, who testified that he was at Lee's ranch the Saturday afternoon of the murder and remained there until the afternoon of the following day; that Lee was not at home Saturday but arrived the following morning in company with McNew and Gilliland; that Lee was at dinner with them about 12 o'clock. Being cross examined, witness admitted that he had told four or five conflicting stories to various friends of the accused men, but stated in explanation that he had been informed his life would be in danger if he testified against Lee and his friends, and that he told the various stories to avoid entanglements which might result in personal violence to himself, but that he has never before made a statement under oath. He also said that a contract or agreement exists whereby he was to receive $2,000, if he testified on behalf of the prosecution to certain facts within his knowledge. He admitted on redirect examination that he was fearful of being killed if he told what he knew, and his manner clearly indicated the greatest reluctance to testifying. In fact, he did not swear to certain very incriminating facts which are said to be within his knowledge.

The theory of the prosecution as thus far developed is that Carr shadowed Fountain from Lincoln to La Luz, then rode across the desert to Lee's ranch and notified him and other accused men of the approximate time when Fountain would pass the point where he was intercepted, and that they thereupon rode to the point indicated, a distance of about 20 miles, and got their man.

One resident of La Luz testified to meeting Carr the day after Fountain reached La Luz, riding in the direction of Lee's ranch; that the colonel spent Friday night in La Luz and left about 8 o'clock next morning. From La Luz to the point where he was held up is about 50 miles, and he is known to have reached that point about 3:30 p. m. Carr was seen in La Luz about 1 o'clock that afternoon, presumably having returned that day from Lee's place.

Albert J. Fountain, the oldest son of the murdered man, occupied the witness stand nearly all the afternoon, detailing the search made by him. Information of his father's supposed disappearance reached him Sunday afternoon and he immediately left for the scene with friends, rode all night and arrived there about sunrise Monday morning. By unmistakable evidence they located the point of the hold-up, found there the tracks of three men surrounding the buckboard and followed the trail of the buckboard and three horsemen from the main road a distance of about ten miles in the fast morning. There the search made by him and the personal effects on the buckboard taken, together with the horse and the neckyoke straps. At this point in his testimony Mr. Fountain produced a necktie worn by his father, which he found hanging on one of the wheels. There he identified the same human tracks which he discovered at the scene of the hold-up. From thence he followed the tracks of horses to the Sacramento mountains. At this point an adjournment was taken until Monday morning.

This morning the case of the Territory of New Mexico vs. McNew, Carr, Gilliland and Lee was resumed before Judge Parker. Albert J. Fountain, son of the murdered man, finished the testimony for the prosecution. He gave a very graphic description of the search made by himself and posse for his father and brother, but there was not much damaging testimony against the accused brought out. Ben Williams is still on the stand.

The first posse that was sent out for the arrest of Lee and Gilliland has returned and reported that the accused men could not be found. Another posse is being gotten ready and will start this evening for the Sacramento mountains with new warrants for Lee and Gilliland. It is thought here, that the posse will not be able to capture these two men without a fight.

NOTICE TO PATRONS.

On and after April 1st, no books will be kept at the City Meat Market, and all credit business will be discontinued. Coupon books now out will be redeemed as per agreement, and new books sold for cash only. This move is taken in order to avoid the expense of book-keeping and collecting, and customers will receive the benefit of the saving. The highest Kansas City meats will be sold at rock bottom prices. We will expect all outstanding accounts to be settled prior to April 1st.

THE CANNING FACTORY.

An Establishment Absolutely Necessary and Which Can Be Had in Santa Fe by Proper Work.

A canning and evaporating establishment is an absolute necessity in Santa Fe. It will help in every way, by making a market for all fruit and affording employment for many persons. While this city has to wait for others to put up a best sugar factory, the cannery is within its own power. It is proposed to have as a canner here, and to ask everyone interested in the city, its prosperity and improvement, to invest what he or she can afford in the company. A committee, of which Hon. L. B. Princes is chairman, will make a report tonight to the Horticultural society and probably a citizens meeting will be held in a couple of days in the city, to organize a company organization. Attend the meeting tonight and hear all about it.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Quarterly Meeting Tonight—Important Business—All Members Should Attend.

The quarterly meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, at the Water company's office. This is the most important meeting ever held by the society and a full attendance is requested. The officers for the coming year will be elected, the time for the next exhibition fixed, and the preliminary arrangements for the fair will be made. Reports will be received as to a cannery, as to boxes and baskets and other important matters. Those subjects will be fully considered, and that of spraying is also on the program. The fair last year was an unequalled success, which was the more remarkable on account of the shortness of preparation; this year it is intended to commence early and leave nothing undone to insure a fine exhibition and large attendance. Much depends on the foundation laid tonight.

If you want the fastest and choicest beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork, go to the market of Bischoff & Muller.

Raising the Tax on Beer.

Judge A. L. Morrison, collector of internal revenue for the district comprising New Mexico and Arizona, has received official notice from the commissioner of internal revenue in Washington, stating that the treasury department expects that the tax on beer will be raised within a few months, and to reduce the serious loss of an expected contingency has issued an order which was received by the Denver office yesterday. The order declares that current beer stamps will be void the moment an increase of tax is ordered and warns brewers against buying large quantities.

Just received at Fischer's, fresh candies, pure drugs and chemicals.
